Election/Restrictions

Newly submitted claim 27 is directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

The invention of previously examined claims 1-13 and newly submitted claims 23-26 and newly submitted claim 27 are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product, and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.05(j)). In the instant case, the intermediate product is deemed to be useful for making a single layer and single patterned print as opposed to the claimed final product comprising multiple prints having different patterns such that a three dimensional construct is made and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct because there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claim 27 has been withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-13 and 23-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Regarding claim 1 and the claims dependent thereon, there is no support in the specification as originally filed for the D50 particle size distribution being in the range of (emphasis added) 36.4 to 63.2 microns such as recited in the claims. It is noted the specification recites two examples, one having a D50 particle size of 36.4 and another example having a D50 particle size of 63.2, however there is no support for the range as claimed.

Regard claim 25, there is no support in the specification as originally filed for the composition to have a viscosity in the range of 15 to 30 PaS. It is noted that the specification makes reference to a variety of ranges for the viscosity, however there is no disclosure of the claimed range nor is there support for a viscosity of 15 PaS.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-13 and 23-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

With respect to Applicant's arguments in view of the previous rejections over Topfer, ISAMM'02 and Benz, Applicant's arguments were found to overcome the rejections since on pages 6 and 7 of the specification, the polymers as claimed provide toughness, ductility and flexibility providing for a composition having a maximized viscosity with minimal polymer content compared to typical polymers employed in similar thick film compositions. It is also noted that the prior art does not teach or suggest the use of particles having a D50 particle size distribution in the claimed range.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
